Message from the Dean

All praise and thanks be to the Lord of the world and peace and blessing be upon the Trustworthy Prophet of Allah, afterwards:

The college aims by all the available means to provide its services for the beneficiaries of both male and female students and to the faculty members. Today it offers an introductory manual for students in English Language and Translation at the undergraduate level. The manual is considered to be the primary first this year to offer to English Language and Translation students and followed by a manual for faculty members as well as a manual of the programs. Both of the above-mentioned manuals belong to the English Language and Translation department. In addition, after the faculty council's approval and after ensuring that these manuals follow the department's rules, procedures, and regulations, the work is being carried on to distribute them to all other departments and the various programs in the college after it was approved by the faculty council. These manuals are the portion of several manuals that the college intends to release and publish this year on the college website. Besides what has been mentioned above:

1. Manual for the College.

2. Manual for Academic Counseling in the College.
3. Manual for Community Service in the College.
4. Manual for Job Description of the Leading Position

The people responsible for this guide have attempted to address all the concerns of the students as it consists of 16 sections such as:

1. Admissions and Registration, Transfer Policy and the Equivalency.
2. Academic Procedures.
3. Student Evaluation Mechanism and the Study Plan.
4. Learning Resources
5. Advising Services and the Extra-curricular Activities.
6. Students Regulation and Students Rights and Duties.
7. Policy of Complaints and Grievances.
8. Support and Student's Excellence.
9. A comprehensive manual of the websites related to the students, means of communication, and platforms.

And I ask Allah, Glorified and Exalted to benefit this manual to all the department's students.

The Dean of the college

Dr. Ibrahim bin Suleiman Al-Lahim

Message from the Head of the English Language and Translation Department:

In the name of Allah the most Gracious, and most Merciful

Best of blessings and peace upon our Prophet Muhammad, afterward: A successful academic experience for students starts from having a good command of what the academic program offers them and knowing what are their rights, duties, graduation requirements, systems, and the regulations that govern the student's academic studies. The Department of English Languages and Translation is therefore delighted to offer students this manual containing everything they need to help them succeed academically within the department.

The students are the pillar of the department and its desired production and the main concern is to provide them with everything that may help them in achieving their ambitions, hopes, skills, experiences, and expertise. The department's mission is to provide students with everything they need to carry out their responsibilities during college and make it a successful and enjoyable experience. The current manual discusses the regulations and guidelines about the students and the department, including terms and control of admission, the registration mechanism for students' courses, the study plan, and the college's and department's vision, among other things, which all of them have great importance and essential to the student's success and excellence after God's will and help.

The current manual provides a model aligned with The Human Capability Development Program in Vision 2030 programs which made one of its strategic goals to reinforce the value of perfection and discipline. What might attain these values in the higher education sector is to have clear requirements, clear student rights, and clear duties so their educational journey can be a successful and unique one which is what this manual clearly and comprehensively aims to provide.

Furthermore, the student's success, ability in the different knowledge, skills as well as the values that the department aims to achieve throughout the educational practices of the courses, pathways, and activities. All contribute to preparing the students for the future labor market which is also a mainstay of The Human Capability Development Program.

It is my hope that this manual is going to help in making the educational experience a successful one for the student's department. I also hope that it will provide them with the support they need to achieve their ambitions so that they can be generous and selfless in fulfilling their goals and visions of their ambitions of the country.

Lastly, I would like to thank all of my colleagues who brought this unique manual in its second version into life and I send my blessings and prayers to all.

Head of the Department of English Language and Translation

Second: Terms and Conditions of Transfer from/to English Language Department (Bachelor program):

1. General Conditions: Transfer from English Language (Bachelor Program) according to the following conditions⁴:

- o The student transfer is allowed once during his/her university studies or twice if one of the years were a preparatory year, and the university has the right to the exception.
- o The student must complete at least one semester at the university.
- o The student should not have spent more than four academic semesters, if the preparatory year is found, it shall not be counted.
- o The application shall be applied during the announced period in the academic calendar.
- o Approval of the Dean of the College of its department/program.
- o Approval of the Dean of the College to be transferred to one of its departments/programs.

Transfer terms to English Language and Translation department/program:

- o The student must complete one semester at the university.
- o The student should not have spent more than four academic terms, if the preparatory year is found, it shall not be counted.
- o The application shall be applied during the announced period in the academic calendar.
- o Approval of the Dean of the College of its department/program.
- o Approval of the Dean of the College to be transferred to one of its departments/programs.
- o Having vacant seats

⁴These Terms are subject to the Study and Examination Regulations and the Executive terms in Qassim University and what the University or the college establishes for regulations, must be returned to it when any conflict arises.

- o The seats are obtained through the competition in student's cumulative GPA or the admission rates in the case of not having a GPA.
- o Priority in transferring for those whose headquarters is in the college's headquarters that they wish to transfer to.
- o The policy of equivalency for the completed courses shall be applied before transferring to the program and according to the Study and Examination Regulation and Executive Rule in Qassim University.

2. Special Conditions to Transfer to English Language and Translation Department:

1. In every semester, the seats are allocated subject to availability. 75% of the seats are allocated to Preparatory Year students and 25% to other colleges. The priority is according to the applicant's GPA.
2. The previous student's weighted percentage or the equivalent grade before the university is not considered. However the competition is based on their GPA, hence the student who does not have a GPA for the differentiation (whether they postponed or dropped the courses) shall not be included.
3. Students who have (4.5) on the IELTS test shall be enrolled in the department without seat competition, under the condition that the test type is 'Academic' and the writing score is (4) and to provide the certificate within thirty days from the date of issue to verify the authenticity of certificates. Moreover, having this present age shall grant the student to enter the first level directly without having to finish the Intensive Course. In addition, having that score shall allow the student to enter the first level in the department in the case of failing the Intensive Course under the condition that the test date is after the intensive course results.
4. Students who fail the Intensive Course must assign a transfer request from their personal page in the system according to what they desire in the scientific department, as there won't be an automatic transfer to them.

For more information, you may visit the department's website at this link:

<https://asc.qu.edu.sa/English>

3. Policy and Procedures for Equating the Materials in the Program:

When a student transfers to the English Language and Translation program, in some cases the student might have passed some courses in the program from which he/she has transferred, then these courses should be equated.

This equivalence is subject to the unified regulation of Study and Examination and the Executive rules at Qassim University⁵. The equivalency is carried out by a certified scientific committee from the Department's Council.

The equivalency is of two types:

The first type: equivalency for students transferring from outside the university. To undertake the equivalence procedure it requires the following:

- Availability of the academic record and it must be sent along with his/her new ID to the Deanship of Admission and Registration to document the equivalence material in the student's record in the Academic System.
- Availability of the student's adopted description of the studied courses from the university transferred from.
- Sending the equivalence result to the student transferred to college through Injaz (official transactions program)

The second type: equivalency for students transferring from inside Qassim University. This is undertaken by the Deanship of Admission and Registration electronically from the Academic System based on recommendations from the College Council of what is possible to equate from the program's courses. No need for the student to visit the transferred department, except in the previous plan - if applicable-, and he/she can visit in the case of any delay in the implementation of the equivalency. For more details visit the Department's website.

4. Study Schedules and Registration of Courses:

1. Electronic Registration:

The Deanship of Admission and Registration announces the early opening of registration for students through their electronic page in accordance with the academic calendar announced by the university, before the beginning of the semester. Among the registered students are students from the English Language and Translation Department: Bachelor's program, bearing the following requirements in mind:

- The registration of the study schedule is the student's responsibility and the registration process is completed through his/her academic page during the assigned period for registration. This may be done in coordination with his/her academic advisor. For exceptional and necessary cases, there is a time for any amendment to be made at the Educational Affairs Agency (Student's Affairs) at the beginning of each semester but not beyond the specified time of the academic calendar.
- If the student passed the assigned time in the academic calendar for registration, he/she does not have the right to amend, drop, or add to his/her schedule. Note that the calendar is published and disseminated at the beginning of each semester through the Deanship of Admission and Registration's website:

⁵ Made by the Resolution from the College Council in the sixth session on 09/04/1426 AH, corresponding to 17/05/2005 CE, and adjusted by the College Council resolution No.(7) Date 30/06/1430 AH, corresponding to 23/06/2009 CE

- To avoid exam clashes and course registration clashes, the student must grade in the registration of the courses as the study plan suggests; note that having two exams on the same day but at different times is not considered a clash.
- The registration of the clashes to the study schedule is prevented for all students, including the expected students to graduate.
- A student may be obliged to take only one course in the last semester if he/she did not register at the assigned time of registration.
- According to Article (8) of Study and Examination Regulations and the Executive Rule of the University, the minimum academic load is (12 hours) in the semester and one hour in the summer semester and the maximum academic load is (20 hours) depending on the student's GPA, and 12 hours in the summer semester. The students who are expected to graduate can register (23 hours) and can be maximized to (24 hours) if his/her GPA was (3) or more. The expected graduate student can register in the summer semester (13 hours) maximum.
- The student can not register for any course that has a prerequisite that he/she did not pass or take
- The student can not attend a class other than the one he/she registered in the Academic System, otherwise, he/she would be considered denied.

2. Courses Registration and Amendment of Schedules through Student's Affairs Staff in the College:

- Students shall not amend the study schedule after registration without approval from the academic advisor by a regulation drawn up from the specialist vice-president or the specialist department, and it must be done within the assigned time frame of adding and dropping. In addition, the adding, dropping, and amendment requests must be completed through the student's gate.
- The status of the student who has not been able to register electronically from his/her gate must be processed within the specified period and after visiting their academic advisor, afterward, they can register their request from their gate and visit the Student's Affairs Staff and the specialist Vice-president after coordinating with the College's Deanship as appreciating for the exceptional cases of unregistered students and decide accordingly.

5. The Academic Processes

Notes:

1. These processes are subject to the Study and Examination Regulations and the Executive

Rule of the University⁶.

2. The student is required and committed to communicating with his/her Academic Advisor before carrying out any academic processes.

Postpone the Semester:

The student has the right to postpone his/her studies two consecutive postponements or three non-consecutive before the beginning of the semester, without affecting his/her GPA and without counting the postponements within the timeframe of graduation, and a special procedure for the accompanying scholarship student to postpone his/her academic status for not more than five years. This can be done through visiting the college and the Deanship of Admission and Registration.

Dropping the Semester:

The student may apply an excuse for not continuing to study a semester from the student's e-gate⁷ within the assigned time for dropping in the Academic calendar. The student must provide his/her excuses for dropping to the college/department, meanwhile, he/she must carry on with the studies and attend the classes until his/her request is undertaken.

Note that the semesters dropped should not exceed two semesters throughout the student's university study, and the Standing Committee of Students' Academic Problems has the right to exceptions in cases of extreme necessity and upon a recommendation from the specialist College Council.

Dropping One or More Courses:

The student may drop one or two courses from his/her e-gate within the assigned time for dropping in the academic calendar. The student must provide his/her excuses to the department, meanwhile, he/she must carry on with the studies and attend the classes until his/her request is undertaken, noting that the registered hours in the student's schedule after dropping the course should not be less than 12 hours, which is the minimum for registration.

Study Suspension:

Any student who does not register his/her schedule within the assigned period of registration shall be considered to be suspended from studies and he/she must submit a request from his/her e-gate to reenroll. This can be done also by the Student Affairs in the college and to follow up on that. Noting that a student who has been suspended for the second time must write a letter with his/her signature explaining justification of his/her suspension and attach what proves so – if any – and then hand it over to the Student's Affairs in the college or to the college Vice-president Deanship for Educational Affairs so the request can be undertaken by the Students' Problem Committee as well as the College Council, afterward the application will be submitted to the university.

Withdrawal From the Studies:

Withdrawal from studies is made by the student as he/she desires after evacuating his party from related parties. However, in case he/she wishes to return to the study, he/she must be subjected to the organized conditions for that, including

⁷ This icon may be blocked by some colleges for this procedure from the student's gate, then he/she must visit the college to undertake the appropriate procedure.

- To submit an application for his/her evacuation from the student's e-gate.

- The student shall not elapse more than four semesters, and the university has the right of exceptions after a recommendation from the College Council.

Academic Dismissal:

Academic dismissal occurs in cases, and one of the common causes of academic dismissal includes the following:

- Receiving Three Academic Warnings:

Any student who gets a cumulative GPA of less than (2) is given a warning to raise his/her average, and the financial reward will also be cut off. If a student reaches three warnings, he/she will face an academic suspension from studying and is not returned except under conditions determined by the college and the appointed committees after submitting to the Vice Dean for Educational Affairs a request to be re-enrolled through a form prepared for this process or through the policy of the Vice Deanship for Educational Affairs. The university may delay the re-enrolment for a semester. If the student exceeds three warnings, they will be academically dismissed from the university, and the College Council may give them a fourth opportunity. If the student does not raise his/her cumulative GPA after receiving four warnings, the College Council shall issue a recommendation to the university, represented by the Standing Committee for handling students' academic problems, to give the student a fifth opportunity. If the student does not raise their cumulative GPA after being given this chance, the Standing Committee for students' academic problems may, in case of necessity, issue a recommendation to the University Council⁸ and the student must apply to the college to rectify his/her status each time he/she gets dismissed.

- Exceeding the Period of Study:

If the student does not fulfill the graduation requirements within a maximum period of (12) semesters from the university, the College Council may give the student an exceptional opportunity to meet the graduation requirements during a maximum period not exceeding twice the period specified for graduation. The University Council, upon the recommendation of the Standing Committee for handling students' academic problems, may give students who are dismissed due to exceeding twice the duration of the program an opportunity, not exceeding a maximum of two semesters⁹.

- Visiting Student:

The visiting student is the student who studies some courses at another university or at a branch of the university to which he/she belongs without transferring. The courses are equated to him/her in accordance with the regulations, , and conditions recorded in the Study and Examination Regulations under Article (50) and its executive rule for Qassim University, which states the following:

1. The approval of the college in which the student previously studied to study as a visiting student.
2. The college/university to be studied at must be officially recognized.

⁸ See the Regulations for the Study and Examination and its Executive Rules of Qassim University, page 25.

⁹ See the Regulations for the Study and Examination and its Executive Rules of Qassim University, page 25.

3. The course to be studied by the student outside the university should be equated or equivalent in its units to one of the courses included in the graduation requirements. If the visiting student's study is in one of the branches of the university to which the student belongs, the rule under Article (47) shall apply, which stipulates that all courses studied by the student must be included in their academic record, including grades, semester and cumulative averages throughout the duration of the study.
4. The University Council determines the maximum number of credits that can be calculated from outside the university for the visiting student.
5. Courses' grades that are equivalent to those of a visiting student from another university are not calculated within their cumulative GPA, and the courses are recorded in their academic record.
6. Any other conditions set by the university.

The Department of English Language and Translation at the College of Arabic Language and Social Studies requires the following conditions to be accepted as a visiting student from the branches of the university:

1. The application must be within the period specified for the visit, and it must be by an official letter from the student's college, specifying the courses he/she wishes to study.
2. To be one of the students expected to graduate.
3. There must be vacant seats in the section in which he/she wants to register.
4. The maximum number of semesters that a student is allowed to study are two semesters.
5. Any other conditions set by the department/program.

6. Student Evaluation Mechanism in the Program

The student is the focus of the educational process, and they are the outcome of academic programs. Therefore, it is an essential requirement of the educational process and its regulations to ensure that students' academic outcomes are fairly assessed. The following is the mechanism that the regulations and guidelines have adopted for testing and evaluating students.

Types of Examinations:

- Final Examinations:

These exams are held at the end of each semester, and the grade is not less than 50% of the total grades approved for the course in the study plan.

- Examination Conflicts:

An exam conflict is the scheduling of two exams in one day at the same time. The scheduling of two courses on one day at two different times is not considered a conflict, and it is prohibited to test the student on three courses on the same day.

These exam conflicts are often scheduled for students expected to graduate, and students must inform their academic advisors about this exam and review the relevant department and the examination committees at their college.

- Alternative Examinations:

These exams are scheduled for students with excuses who were unable to attend the final exam, and their excuses were accepted by the College Council after submitting them on the specified date, which is a maximum of two weeks after calculating the average¹⁰ and the council issued a recommendation to give them an alternative test.

¹⁰Some excuse reports may be delayed due to circumstances beyond the student's control, but they should notify the relevant authority to preserve their rights.

- Semester Work Examinations:

The department has adopted direct measurement to ensure a diverse range of assessment tools and methods for evaluating students' learning outcomes in the course. The grade of students' semester work comprises not less than 30% of the course total grade. This decision was made in the department's sixth session, which took place on 1436/01/09 AH within Decision No. 37-36/8850/06/03, and was updated in the second session, held on 1441/01/11 AH within Decision No. 42-41/8850/02/02, and states the following:

1- The College Council to which the course belongs, based on the proposal of the Department Council, determines a grade for students' work during a semester of not less than 30% (thirty percent) according to what was decided in the approved study plan.

Assessment tool	Application
Midterm, final and written exams.	Two written exams are held during the semester in addition to the final exam.
Oral exams.	One or more oral exams are held, taking into account the assigned grade for the exams.
Participation in lectures.	This includes interacting in the lecture, early attendance, active listening, avoiding distractions...
Home assignments.	These assignments should be related to the course and its content.
Short research papers.	Research papers range from five to ten pages.
Reviewing the references related to the course.	The student reads the topics covered in their curriculum through websites and published research, then presents what they have read to the instructor and their colleagues.
Scientific activities during lectures.	Oral and written applications based on the nature of each course.

2- The College Council, based on the recommendation of the Department Council, to which the course belongs, shall take the following decisions:

- A. Change the grade.
- B. Schedule alternative exams.

Students' Attendance and Absence:

First: Attendance and Absence from Lectures:

- Any student who is absent from lectures for more than [20%] will be considered denied entry to the final exam. Taking into account that students are responsible for registering their absence and following it through the electronic gate. If the student's absence exceeds the mentioned percentage with an excuse, he/she must submit it immediately after receiving it to the course instructor for consideration in cooperation with his/her academic advisor, unless the student's absence exceeds more than 50%. In this case, regardless of their excuses, the student will be obligated to retake the course in a later semester. If there is a disagreement in assessing excuses between the professor and the student, the student may submit to the college, represented by the Vice Dean for Educational Affairs or the Student Affairs Department, to resolve the matter.

Second: Attendance and Absence from Exams:

Before the exam starts, the student must make sure of the following:

- The date and time of the exam and keeping an electronic copy of the exam announcement.
- The room of the exam.

After the exam starts, the student also must adhere to the following warnings and instructions:

- Attend the exam at least a quarter of an hour before the start of the exam with proof of identity.
- It is prohibited to enter mobiles, smart watches, Bluetooth headphones, papers, and what is approved by the examination committees to be prohibited, for which it is considered a means of cheating that leads to the student being denied in more than one course.
- Alternative tests are held for students whose excuses have been approved by the College Council at the beginning of the semester following the absence.
- Any student who is absent from the final exam with an excuse, he/she must submit his/her excuse immediately after the absence in a period not exceeding two weeks after calculating the cumulative average, noting that the excuses accepted by the college are valid excuses, including, for example, hospitalization in government hospitals, medical reports from them, accidents, or deaths¹¹. Medical excuses from government clinics (if there is a hospital in the student's residence), private clinics, or emergency appointments will not be accepted, and the College Council may make an exception after examining the cases and excuses submitted to it. The student must provide the college with all his/her excuses, and the College Council will then review all of them and make a decision.

Some government agencies prohibit writing the student their report or excuse except through an official request from the university. The university, represented by the Deanship of Student Affairs and its Department of Guidance and Counseling, has provided a request for medical certificates or reports from government hospitals by the student. These requests are made electronically by the student. If the student is unable to benefit from this service or print it electronically, the administration has provided an alternative service by visiting one of its employees and requesting this service directly.

8. Learning Resources:

1- Central Library of the University:

The university has provided a large and comprehensive library equipped with all the learning resources the students need. It has established a system for lending books through a convenient and easy mechanism that enables the student to access paper and electronic references and sources in the easiest and most concise way possible.

To learn more about the extensive services offered by the university to students through the Central Library, you can access them through this link:

2- College Library:

In addition to the central library, the girls section offers its own library. Which offers references and resources for students and researchers from faculty staff, and it's under the supervision of central library in the university, and providing this library for girls section aims to create equality for both the two parts of the student population in obtaining books, references, and resources for coursework and research, in addition to general objective of having such a library.

3- Reading Club:

The college has developed club for reading, and review in both the two parts of the student population, and the club aims to number of objectives include:

- Create a suitable environment for reading.
- Enhance the love of reading for both the two parts of the student population.

4- Websites Guide for Specialized Libraries and Research Centres in English Language.

9. Guidance and Counseling Services, and Extracurricular Activities:

Academic Guidance:

General objective:

Reaching the highest levels of guidance and counseling leading to stability and academic excellence for the students of both the two parts of the student population in Bachelor's Degree in English Language and Translation.

Message:

Provision of counseling, academic, guidance, psychological and social services for both the two parts of the student population of students in the English Language and Translation Department.

Mechanism of Academic Guidance:

In light of modern upbringing and the role that universities carry out, and the historical period that human going through it in our time in the light of the enormous variables in the field of human engineering, and the means of electronic communication, College of Arabic Language and Social Studies council initiated in his fifth meeting held in Monday 28\01\1440 to agree on renewal of the establishment of the Academic Guidance Unit in the college as an important tributary in developing the educational process and establishing rules of participation, interaction, and decision-making to build a personality capable of facing the future with its own variables.

In this sense the Academic Guidance system imposes duties on the parties of the educational process, educational institution, faculty member, and student.

These duties are manifested in all administrative, technical, and academic systems and regulations which organizes the activity of the educational process, and academic advising has a vital role which works to provide the public image of university life and clarify all the different dimensions of this image for the student, through the following procedures and policies:

- Connecting the students with the instructors:

The student is linked to the instructor through the following:

- Divide the students of bachelor level on the faculty staff through the academic system, and the faculty member able to text the student through his e-gate with a text-message, contact him/her, and that after being provided with a call number.

- Setting the office hours in the academic schedules and announcing them in faculty staff offices and websites.

- You can see all the means of communication with your advisor by login to the following link:<https://asc.qu.edu.sa/5/faculty>

Mechanism of contacting the student with the academic advisor:

Each advisor sends a text message via student mobile, student email, or place a notification in the student gate.

- The advisor holds a meeting of the students assigned to him\her.

- The academic advisor establishes (or the unit of academic guidance) a special file for each student to write all the academic data for the student.

- The academic advisor study student file and his\her major and a special registration form is filling out for each student prior of registration, where the student comes to seek advice in choosing courses, and know the steps to follow before final advisor signature, where the student then directs to Student Affairs Department to register courses according to their organization of registration processes.

- The advisor must help the student in analyzing his\her situation and guide him\her on the appropriate steps he\she has to follow confronting his\her problems before his\her studies are significantly affected, and in some cases student to adapt and become overwhelmed with psychological, social, or physical challenges, and here the student should be directed to the second level of advising, namely psychological, social and medical specialist guidance.

Academic Guidance Programs:

1- New students preparation and reception program:

The program has a committee called student educational committee, and one of its most prominent tasks:

Welcoming the new students, provide them with the necessary information, and prepare them from all psychological and cognitive aspects of the study.

2- Outstanding students welfare program: Outstanding students are accounted for by the following:

- Academic system and student's academic record.

- Nomination of faculty members to the outstanding student through the appearance of his\her excellence during the lecture and scientific and cognitive discussions.

After that those outstanding students will be attached with an experienced and distinguished faculty staff, they have interest in multiple cognitive aspects, and they are supervised by a committee of the section's committees.

3- Stumbling students welfare program:

Which care for distressed students in their studies, by using the same approach with the excellent students which is like the following:

- Academically warned students are accounted for by using the reports of the academic system. - Holding a group guidance meeting for them, and one example of these meetings which were held by the program for them:

Meeting entitled:

Your way to raise your cumulative GPA.

- Holding individual meetings with them that had a positive impact in finding the problem of stumbling academically and reducing its increase.

- Student Guidance Program during Deletion and Addition period:

These are done through the programme's academic advisors in collaboration with the Faculty's Academic Guidance Unit and the Department Presidency.

4- Training course programme:

Each class holds a number of training courses supporting students and discovering their talents.

Student club:

The college has a student club carried out by specialized faculty members who coordinate the events, scheduling of non-classroom activities in the college in cooperation with the student activities committees in the departments, this club is part of an integrated system of student clubs at the university under the supervision and follow-up of the Deanship of Student Affairs, which provides a number of student units and services at the University, including:

- Multiple student activities - Volunteer Club - University Scouting - Theatre Activity - Cultural Activity -

Sports Activity - Scientific Activity - Student Clubs - Talent and Innovation Unit.

The College established a student club to familiarize them with those activities, interact with the University's activities and services, and to provide some activities and skills to the College's students.

Overall objective:

Provide non-classroom activities in many fields to develop students' abilities and skills, and build a bridge between college students with the events and activities offered by the University and motivating them to participate in them.

In the programme, a Student Activity Unit was established from the Student Club of the College, the unit carries out a number of activities through a number of channels established by the section in the programme:

cultural activity:

This activity is designed to be a tributary of discovering the talents and abilities of English and Translation students as well as to develop some skills, this activity also creates cultural awareness among students through lectures and sessions with some cultural and intellectual owners proposed by the department from inside and outside the college to educate and protect students from deviant ideology, in addition to dedicating the role of the reference department at the college and at the university by embracing all cultural talents from the university students in general, and it also works to train students in cultural life through training in the management of cultural activities.

Activities:

In order to provide the best student and training activities for all its employees, the College Council recommended in its eighth meeting held on 15/02/1441 - 14/10/2019, two hours of student activity were scheduled for Tuesday from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. The Board recommended that this be taken into account in the tables starting from the (412) semester of the university year 1441.

This recommendation may yield results and benefit the students, and the Department of Cultural Activity will carry out a range of student activities and training courses.

Cultural Activity Administrative Reference

The cultural activity is directly related to the supervisor of the student activity in the section, which is associated with the head of the department and the programme manager.

Cultural Activity Supervisor:

Supervised by the program's student activity supervisor, which he\she is a specialized faculty member.

- The student has the right to see his\her answers in the tests to identify his\her mistakes so as to make it easier for him\her to develop his\her abilities.

- The student is entitled to see his\her results, know how to measure his\her performance and distribute the score.

- Obtaining alternative tests in case there is an acceptable excuse for his\her absence from the tests.

- The student has the right to include representatives in the councils and committees, working in the relevant programme, and to study it, through the Student Advisory Council, the Advisory Committee and the student committees.

- The student has the right to equip facilities and services suitable for the educational environment to which he belongs.

- The student has the right to establish a clear mechanism for complaining and lodging complaints.
- The student has the right to oppose any decisions in which he\she considers his\her abuse, including those of the university's disciplinary committees, or of colleges in the time limits for the objection.

2: Students' Duties:

students' Duties are the following:

- Sincerity in seeking knowledge, and invoking the intention for Almighty Allah in doing so.
- Full commitment to attend lectures, practical lessons and other activities required by the university's regulations.
- Complete preservation of university facilities and their contents, along with a sense of true patriotism towards these great free services provided for students.
- Adherence to Islamic manners, laws, regulations, and circulars, issued by the university and other concerned authorities in the country.
- Continuous following of the university's E-gate, and its updates.
- Total supervision over registering his/her courses himself/herself.
- Regular visits to the Academic Advisor.
- Complying with the appropriate uniform, dress code and appearance that align with the Islamic values and Saudi norms, and any guidelines issued by the university regarding this matter.

13: Student Grievances and Complaints:

It has already been mentioned that Qassim University has issued a circular, stating that the official university email (ending with@qu.edu.sa) is the approved means for electronic communication among faculty members, in order to protect students' rights, ensure that their requests or complaints are received, and for it to be an official document for any legal or official authority.

The grievances that students may resort to can be divided into two types:

-First type: Non-Academic Grievances:

These can be submitted through all channels at university, starting with the Head of the Department to which the student belongs, and ending with the University Rector's office. This enables the student to communicate with everyone regarding this matter. For more information, the student can visit the university's website and review communication and contact means related to these grievances.

Second type: Academic Grievances:

these includes several paragraphs, including:

1- Grievances regarding grades:

- The student must know that the Unified Study and Exam Regulations during university level have granted them the right of appeal against their grades in every exam type, in accordance with Article (39) and its Executive Rule of Qassim University in cases of necessity, and following the procedures outlined below:
- The appeal shall be submitted within two weeks from the calculation of the students' cumulative GPA, and the college has the right to reject any appeal after this duration.
- The appeal shall be submitted electronically through the following link:

<https://scatalog.qu.edu.sa/689>

Or you can fill out the following form made by the college, specifically for requesting re-correction of the exam answer sheet through the following link:

<https://forms.qu.edu.sa/asc/>

- The appeal shall be submitted to the College Agency for Educational Affairs via the following email (staf@qu.edu.sa), or directly to the College Vice-Dean for Educational Affairs.
- After reviewing the request with the formed committee regarding this manner, the Vice-Dean of the College sends the appeal to the Head of the Department, and then, the Head of the Department or his delegate informs the student of his answer sheet and compares it with the key answers to the exam. When the student is convinced of the accuracy of the exam correction, he signs to withdraw his/her appeal. The appeal is then saved after the Head of the Department signs it.
- In case the student is not convinced of the accuracy of the exam correction, the Head of the Department forms a committee, not including the course instructor. The committee shall submit a report to the Head of the Department to decide whether to amend the student's grade or to reject the application. The student is informed of this decision, in case he/she is not convinced, he/she may appeal to the College Council against this decision, and submit a re-evaluation request, including the reasons and justifications for submitting it, an undertaking from the student to the validity of the information provided, a statement from the Deanship of Admission and Registration of the re-correction applications previously submitted by the student, if any, and the decisions taken therein. The College Council has to review the request. In case the College Council is not convinced of the adequacy of the reasons for the grievance, it shall issue a reasoned decision to reject it and preserve it. In case the College Council approves the correction request, it shall form a committee of at least three faculty members, one of whom shall be from outside the department, not including the course instructor. The committee submit its report to the Council within fifteen days from the date of its decision. It shall be submitted to the Board for decision at the next first sitting¹⁴

2- Academic Procedures:

Whenever a student perceives injustice, he/she has the right to file complaints and grievances, including the rejection of his academic procedures' requests, like: rejecting his/her semester postponement request, dropping it, or withdrawal from a course, academic suspension and dismissal from the university, or in cases these two are not lifted, or other student's rights that are in accordance with the established regulations and conditions.

And the student has the right to submit a complaint or grievance in case of disagreement between him/her and the course instructor regarding the acceptance of excuses for absence that do not exceed the specified percentage in this manual, which is 50%.

14: Student Support and Excellence

For excellent students applies the following:

1- Awarding of Honors:

In accordance with article (30) of Study and Exam Regulations during the university level, and its Executive Rule at Qassim University, honors are awarded to the student as follows:

First class honors are awarded to students with a cumulative GPA of (4.75) to (5.00) out of (5.00) upon graduation. The second class honors are awarded to students with a cumulative GPA between (4.25) and less than (4.75) out of (5.00) upon graduation.

For the first or second honors, the following conditions are required:

- The student should not have failed any course he studied at the university or at another university.
- The student must have completed the graduation requirements within a maximum period of the average between the maximum and minimum duration of stay at college.
- The student must have studied at least 60% of the graduation requirements.

2- The university may award the student who has a cumulative GPA of (4.75) to (5.00) a financial reward every semester he attains the mentioned GPA.

3- National and International standards necessitate that the college, or the department to which the student belongs, establish a mechanism for excellent students, to celebrate and honor them. It is also permissible to institute a regular award that is given to them upon their graduation, or at the end of each academic year or semester, in accordance with the regulations set by the college or Department Council.

. 15: Graduates Unit and Employers:

At college, there is a unit concerned with graduates, which is known as Graduates Unit. It aims to find a connection channel between the college and its students in different majors. The student is required to update his/her personal data in this unit upon receiving their graduation certificate. It is located at the Students Affairs office, opposite the Vice-Dean office for Educational Affairs, in the student support area (support). More information is available via the College Agency for Educational Affairs website.

This Unit Aims to:

- Establish an updated database of graduates.
- Hand out graduates their graduation certificate at the end of each academic year, in collaboration with Students Affairs Management.
- Establish a mechanism to utilize the graduates' input to develop the program and its courses, receive their opinions, and benefit from their experience and support.
- Establish a mechanism to involve graduates in the program's events and activities.
- Establish a database for Employers, and means to contact them.
